Virginia Military Institute

DISINCLINATE FEATURES.

The attention of all who are interested in education is respectfully called to the special advantages now offered by the Virginia Military Institute. Among these advantages are:

I. Its Distinctive Military System. This has secured for it the name of the "West Point of the South." It tends to muscular development and physical health by an enforced regularity in food, sleep and exercise. It creates habits of promptness, order, discipline and subordination. It fosters self-reliance and force of personal character by removing all extraneous distractions, and casting each youth, whatever his antecedent circumstances, on his own individual responsibility. It is equal, uniform and wholesomely restraining, without rigor.

II. Its Distinctive Academic Curriculum. This embraces the study of English, History, French or Spanish, German or Latin, mathematics, physics, geology, mechanics, surveying, chemistry, and modern languages.

III. Its Technical Scientific Courses. Provision is made for the members of the second class to elect between the courses of civil engineering, of analytical and applied chemistry and of electrical engineering. These courses are of one and a half years' duration, and are illustrated by continuous field and laboratory practice. The department of engineering is thoroughly equipped with instruments and models, and the chemical, physical and mineralogical laboratories having all appliances for thorough practical instruction.

IV. Its Distinctive System of Instruction. This divides the classes into sections, whereby the students are accurately graded, and each secures a share of the personal attention of the instructor. The success of the educational work of the school turns largely on this method.

V. Its Economy. The expenses are: Pay, $100 a year; Virginia cadets, $100 a year; free, $25 a year; State cadets, $100 a year. This estimate includes tuition, board, fuel and lights. For room and board, medical attendance of the most careful character, clothing, books, stationery and all necessary expenses, and falls below that of any institution of like grade in this country. This estimate is exclusive of outfit, and must be made as under: a. Average for the entire term, the first year being of necessity the most costly.

For further information and catalogue apply to the Superintendent.

Academy of the Holy Cross
Washington, D. C.

A select school for boarders and day pupils, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross, in the best residential section of the National Capital. The educational work of the academy is based on the conviction that intellectual, moral and religious training must be combined in the development of character. The academy endeavors not only to cultivate a spirit of refinement, but also to foster those virtues without which education of a purely intellectual sort can avail but little.

The academy occupies an estate of 22 acres, situated in the best residential section of Washington, and commanding a fine view of the city and surrounding country. The buildings form a splendid fireproof structure in the Tudor-Gothic style of architecture. All pupils are required to enter the physical culture classes under the direction of a competent instructor. A thoroughly equipped gymnasium provides for indoor exercise, while the spacious grounds afford opportunity for tennis, archery and basket ball.

The academy life is divided into three periods of four years each, consisting of the Academic, Preparatory and Primary departments. The Academic Department grants a diploma to pupils satisfactorily completing the courses in higher mathematics, sciences, classics and modern languages. Tuition, $100 per annum. Catalogue free on request. Address: HOLY CROSS ACADEMY, Dumbarton, - - - Washington, D. C.
